Andreas Baader

- Hans Martin Schleyer an influential German employer and industrialist was kidnapped and murdered by the Red Army Faction in 1977.

- ‘All reactionaries are paper tigers. In appearance, the reactionaries are terrifying, but in reality they are not so powerful. From a long-term point of view, it is not the reactionaries but the people who are really powerful.’

Mao Zedong, Selected Works, 1946

- Oliver Cromwell one of the earliest political agitators in history. Introduced the practice of political agitation in his New Model Army in 1647.

- Amílcar Cabral's PAIGC fought for the independence of Guinea Bissau and Cape Verde from Portuguese colonialism.

The war of popular resistance went through 4 phases:

- Agitation and clandestine operations (1971-78);
- Guerrilla warfare (1981-1984);
- Mobile warfare (1984-1985); and,
- Conventional warfare (September 1985 up to the capture of Kampala).

- The Casspir and Buffel two mine-resistant armored vehicles developed by Apartheid South Africa during the wars of liberation in Southern Africa.

- IFVs can be attacked by Anti-Tank Missiles, Mines, or IEDs like the EFP

- General Georgios Grivas was the leader of the Cypriot guerrilla organization EOKA, that fought for independence from Great Britain and 'Enosis' (unification with Greece).

- Phase III of a Protracted Peoples' War comprises Mobile Warfare

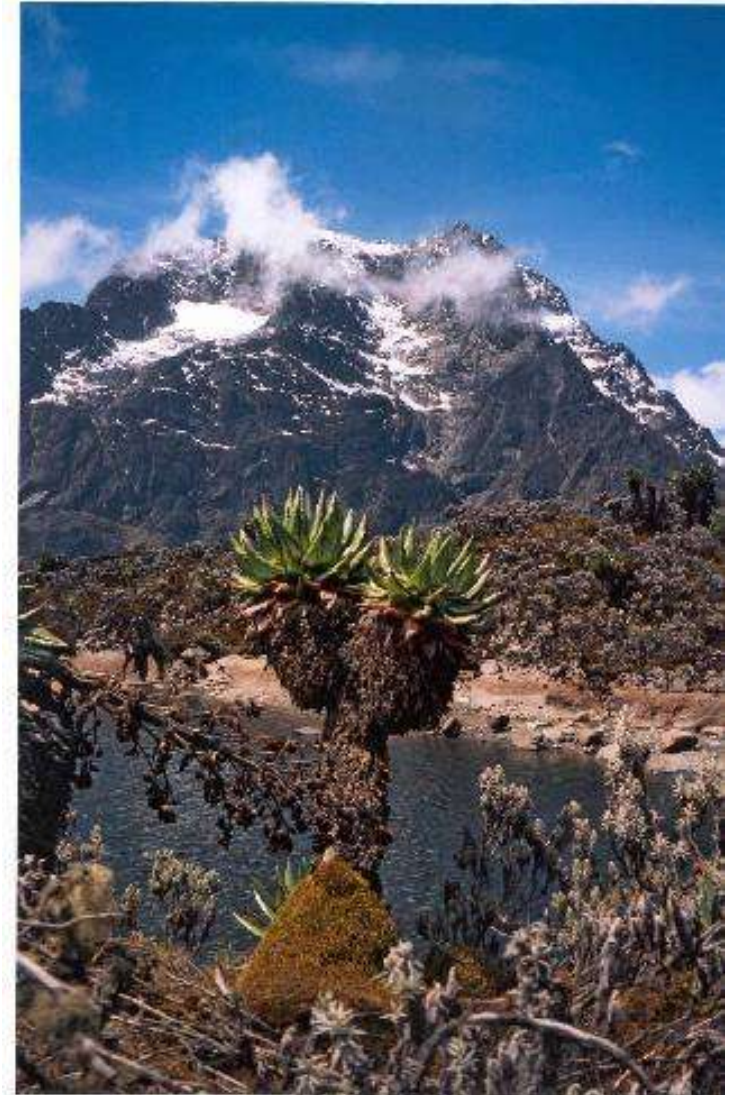

- During the guerrilla warfare phase (i.e. phase II), fight battles of short duration. An engagement should not exceed 20 minutes.

- A successful peoples' war is about gun-raising. Yoweri Museveni inspects arms obtained from the enemy.

- The Second Front in Uganda's Protracted Peoples' War was opened in the Ruwenzori mountains by NRA units under the command of Fred Rwigyema.

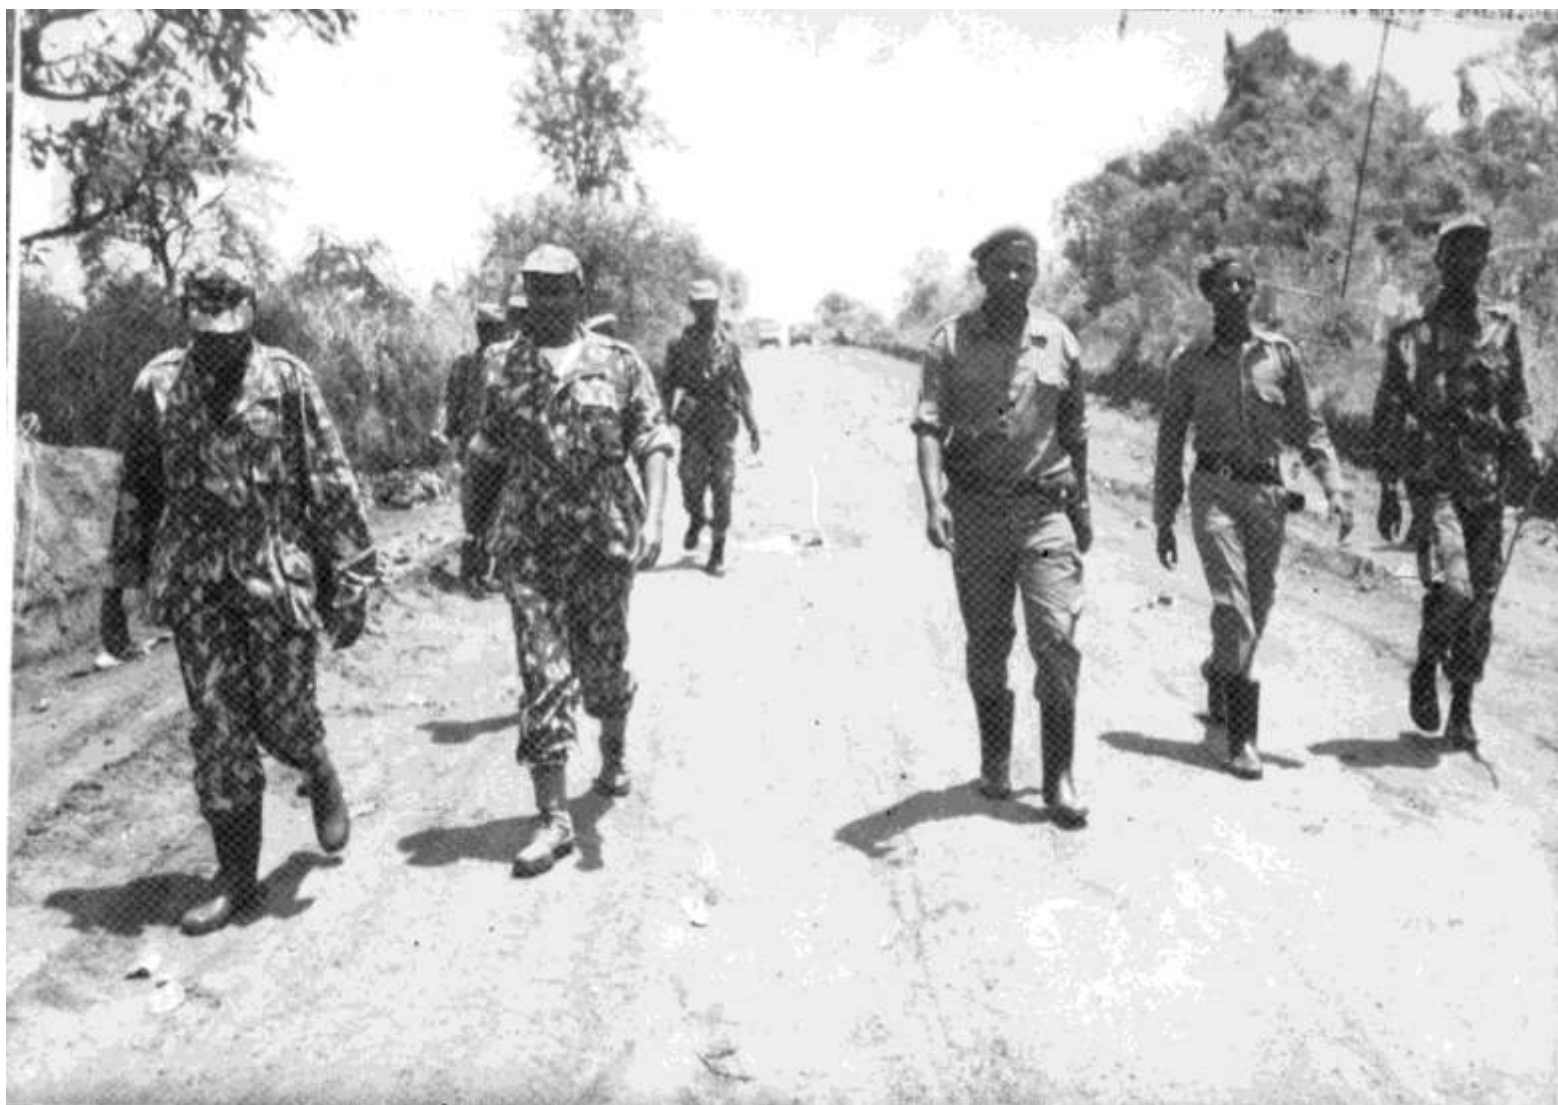

- The final phase (i.e. phase IV) of a peoples' war involves conventional warfare. These operations were led by Salim Saleh in the NRA experience.

- ‘Do not take a single needle or piece of thread from the masses’. Mao ZeDong
